Legal notice

The software used performs calculations on the basis of more than the two decimal places displayed. Minor discrepancies cannot be ruled out due to further calculations using published results.

The value of a unit is calculated by dividing the entire value of the investment fund inclusive of its income by the number of units. The total value of the investment fund is calculated on the basis of the current market prices of the securities, money market instruments and subscription rights in the fund plus the value of the fund's financial investments, cash holdings, credit balances, receivables and other rights net of its payables. That value will be calculated by the custodian bank.

The net assets are calculated in accordance with the following principles:

- a) The value of assets quoted or traded on a stock exchange or other regulated market shall be determined, in principle, on the basis of the most recently available price.
- b) Where an asset is not quoted or traded on a stock market or another regulated market or where the price for an asset quoted or traded on a stock market or another regulated market does not appropriately reflect its actual market value, the prices provided by reliable data providers or, alternatively, market prices for equivalent securities or other recognized market valuation methods shall be used.

Raiffeisen KAG uses the method developed by OeKB (Österreichische Kontrollbank AG) to calculate the fund's performance, on the basis of data provided by the custodian bank (where payment of the redemption price is suspended, using indicative values). Some costs – the subscription fee (not exceeding 5.00 % of the invested amount) and any redemption fee (not exceeding 0.00 % of the sold amount) – are not included in the performance calculation. Depending on their concrete value, they will reduce a performance accordingly. Past results do not permit any reliable inferences as to the future performance of the fund.

Fund investment policy report

The market for European small cap stocks developed positively over the past six months. The broad market realized gains of approx. 8 %. The market was boosted by the US election results as well as hopes of fiscal measures to stimulate the US economy. An initial interest-rate hike in the USA provided further support for the market.

The election results and the interest-rate hike resulted in strong restructuring within the various sectors. Commodities and financial stocks were clear outperformers during this phase, while less cyclical sectors and real estate stocks underwent a correction.

The fund was unable to match the market's performance in this period. In the past six months, the fund registered growth of approx. 4 %. Its stockpicking in the financial sector was overly conservative. Here, Grenke provided negative contributions for the fund. More interest rate-sensitive equities such as Enagas and Cellnex also delivered negative contributions for the fund. In the commodities sector, the picture for individual securities was mixed. While Buzzi Unicem realized strong gains, Umicore generally moved sideways and thus lagged behind the market. Software AG issued a profit warning in the 2nd half of the year. In the consumer sector, Technicolor's performance was disappointing. The fund's stockpicking in the industrial sector provided a positive contribution. Outperformers included YIT, LISI and Konecranes. In the consumer sector, Marine Harvest was significantly stronger than the market.
