Legal notice

The software used performs calculations on the basis of more than the two decimal places displayed. Minor discrepancies cannot be ruled out due to further calculations using published results.

The value of a unit is calculated by dividing the entire value of the investment fund inclusive of its income by the number of units. The total value of the investment fund is calculated on the basis of the current market prices of the securities, money market instruments and subscription rights in the fund plus the value of the fund's financial investments, cash holdings, credit balances, receivables and other rights net of its payables. That value will be calculated by the custodian bank.

The net assets are calculated in accordance with the following principles:

- a) The value of assets quoted or traded on a stock exchange or other regulated market shall be determined, in principle, on the basis of the most recently available price.
- b) Where an asset is not quoted or traded on a stock market or another regulated market or where the price for an asset quoted or traded on a stock market or another regulated market does not appropriately reflect its actual market value, the prices provided by reliable data providers or, alternatively, market prices for equivalent securities or other recognized market valuation methods shall be used.

Raiffeisen KAG uses the method developed by OeKB (Österreichische Kontrollbank AG) to calculate the fund's performance, on the basis of data provided by the custodian bank (where payment of the redemption price is suspended, using indicative values). Some costs – the subscription fee (not exceeding 3.00 % of the invested amount) and any redemption fee (not exceeding 0.00 % of the sold amount) – are not included in the performance calculation. Depending on their concrete value, they will reduce a performance accordingly. Past results do not permit any reliable inferences as to the future performance of the fund.

Dear unitholder,

Raiffeisen Kapitalanlage-Gesellschaft m.b.H. is pleased to present its semi-annual fund report for Raiffeisen Sustainable Mix for the reporting period from Oct 1, 2017 to Mar 31, 2018. The accounting is based on the price calculation as of Mar 29, 2018.

Fund investment policy report

Equities

The fund continues to invest in equities of companies which focus on sustainability and have above-average ratings in terms of social and environmental criteria. Aside from a favorable sustainability assessment, the selected companies must also have attractive financial valuations.

The fund's equities segment remains broadly diversified and invests in companies which operate in developed markets in a particularly responsible and sustainable manner. The fund continues to focus in its investments on Europe and North America, while Japan plays a relatively minor role.

In the period under review, stock markets gained substantially between October 2017 and January 2018 and ended in a volatile sideways movement. The US stock markets were buoyed up specifically by the tax reform initiated by the Trump administration. While very few issues could have dampened investors' euphoria during the first few reporting months, anxiety regarding a possible trade war between the USA, China and Europe came to the fore in February 2018. This was accompanied not only by fears that the economy might slow down but also by geopolitical uncertainty regarding a possible escalation of the Syrian conflict.

The fund's equities holdings registered a marginally positive performance during the reporting period. The majority of the sectors provided positive earnings contributions, with information technology, healthcare and energy making the strongest contributions.

Companies in the basic consumer goods, cyclical consumer goods and utilities sectors delivered negative contributions. At the individual stock level, securities such as Sysmex, a specialist in lab analysis appliances, Intel, a leading chip manufacturer, and Neste, a refinery focusing on clean, sustainable fuels, delivered particularly positive performances. Hanesbrands, a textile manufacturer, Vestas Wind, a leading wind turbine producer, and Suez, a French utilities company, occupied the opposite end of the performance scale.

The fund's activities in its equities segment were shaped by profit-taking, measures to optimize risk/return perspectives and not least by changes to the sustainability assessment for individual securities.

Euro bonds / global bonds

In the reporting period, Raiffeisen Sustainable Mix invested exclusively in bonds issued by companies and sovereigns with solid credit ratings that operate in a responsible and sustainable manner. A new feature is the exclusion of Belgium, Finland and Slovakia on grounds of their expansive nuclear power policies; up until now, France and the UK had been the only European countries which had been excluded due to their nuclear arms programs; investments in government bonds issued by these countries are thus not admissible.

The period under review was initially dominated by a sideways trend in government bond yields, which fluctuated around 0.4 % in the case of 10-year German Bund bonds. However, in December 2017, a positive economic outlook invited speculation that the Eurozone might introduce its first interest rate hike at an earlier time than previously expected. As a consequence, prices of government bonds in core countries, such as Germany, Austria or the Netherlands, fell significantly and 10-year German Bund yields had doubled to around 0.75 % by February 2018. Government bonds from the European periphery delivered a better performance in this period; the same is true for corporate bonds whose risk premiums narrowed further and recorded the lowest values since 2007 in February 2018.

Accompanied by increased volatility, a broad market correction occurred in February 2018 which affected stocks markets and government bond markets alike. Among corporate bonds, it was mostly companies with low credit ratings and subordinated bonds that came under pressure in the early phases.

Following President Trump's announcement of trade barriers, March 2018 was dominated by the subject of trade relations between the USA and China. Possible international trade restrictions upset investors, which in turn affected risk premiums on corporate bonds. Nevertheless, despite slightly more restrictive central bank policies, government bond yields once again dropped to 0.5 %. On top of this, the credit markets had to absorb a number of major new issues with very attractive prices, which had a respective negative impact on the secondary market.

The fund's interest risk strategies made marginally positive contributions, while the addition of USD bonds resulted in a negative performance contribution. Although the USD exchange rate remained stable until the end of the year, it dropped around 6 % against the EUR in the period December 2017 to late January 2018.

Securities lending transactions were entered into in order to generate additional income.

- Nature and value of eligible collateral received by the investment fund versus the counterparty risk:

Under the securities lending master agreement concluded between the management company and Raiffeisen Bank International AG, Raiffeisen Bank International AG is obliged to provide collateral for loaned securities. Sight deposits, bonds, equities and units in investment funds are permitted as collateral. The bonds used as collateral may be issued by sovereigns, supranational issuers and/or companies etc. No stipulations apply in relation to the terms of these bonds. Within the scope of provision of collateral, pursuant to § 4 of the Austrian Securities Lending and Repurchase Agreement Ordinance (Verordnung zu Wertpapierleih- und Pensionsgeschäften, WPV), diversification and correlation with risk diversification achieved through quantitative issuer limits in particular and appropriate liquidity for collateral for the purpose of tradability and realizability will be ensured. Sight deposits are not subject to any haircut. The value of this collateral calculated on each day of stock market trading thus amounts to 100 % of the value of the loaned securities. Other collateral (bonds, equities and units in investment funds) will be valued – likewise on each day of stock market trading – on the basis of a value-at-risk calculation. The maximum foreseeable loss for this other collateral is calculated over a period of three business days, with a probability of 99 % (confidence interval). The value determined plus a markup of 10 % represents the applicable valuation markdown. This valuation markdown will amount to at least 5 % of the value of this other collateral. Recognition of this haircut will entail delivery of the required volume of additional collateral on each day of stock market trading.

On the reporting date the collateral had the following makeup:
