Investment Objective

The Fund seeks to provide a combination of long-term capital appreciation with a moderate level of income by investing in equity and fixed income securities, primarily through investment in other collective investment schemes.

Primary Investment Strategies

The Fund pursues an actively-managed investment strategy whereby the Investment Manager has discretion over the composition of the Fund's portfolio holdings and is not managed with reference to a benchmark index. However, as more particularly described below, the Investment Manager manages the Fund through pre-determined asset allocations to equity and fixed income securities using a combination of underlying collective investment schemes.

The Fund will seek to achieve its investment objective by gaining exposure to a diversified portfolio composed approximately of 60% by value of equity securities and 40% by value of fixed income securities, which will, subject to the requirements of the Central Bank, be obtained predominantly via direct investment in passively managed exchange traded funds ("ETFs") or other collective investment schemes which track an index (together the "Target Funds"). The portfolio asset allocation may be reconstituted and rebalanced from time to time at the discretion of the Investment Manager.

The Target Funds will employ a passive management investment approach, through physical acquisition of securities and will either invest in a representative sample of the constituent securities of the relevant index or will seek to replicate the index fully. It is not proposed that the Fund will invest in Target Funds which pursue an actively managed investment strategy, whereby specific individual stock selection strategies are in place.

The Target Funds in which the Fund invests will be UCITS and may include other Funds of the Company or collective investment undertakings linked by common management or control to each other or to the Company. See Appendix 3 of the Prospectus, including the section headed "Cross Investment", for information on investment in collective investment schemes, including other Funds of the Company.

It is intended that the Fund's indirect exposures, through its investment in the Target Funds, will be to: (1) shares of companies from developed and emerging markets (i.e. countries that are progressing toward becoming advanced, usually shown by some development in financial markets, the existence of some form of stock exchange and a regulatory body); and (2) to fixed income securities, such as bonds, denominated in multiple currencies, from both developed and emerging markets issuers (for example, global investment grade debt, including treasury, government-related, corporate and securitised fixed-rate bonds). The Fund will seek to indirectly hedge the non-EUR currency exposure within the fixed income allocation of the Fund's portfolio to EUR, by investing in EUR hedged Share classes of the Target Funds.

The Fund's exposure to the Target Funds is not intended to reflect any geographic or sectoral bias, and the overall objective of the asset allocation is to maintain a globally diversified exposure across equity and fixed income securities in line with the 60% equity and 40% fixed income allocation through investment in the Target Funds. However, based on current market capitalisation and underlying Target Fund index weightings, the Fund's exposure to emerging markets or sub-investment grade debt, through its investment in the Target Funds, is not expected to exceed 20% of the Net Asset Value of the Fund in each case.

As part of the Investment Manager's pre-determined asset allocations to equity and fixed income securities, it will select Target Funds which have diversified underlying holdings across global equity or fixed income markets in order for the Fund to meet its investment objective. This selection process is based on evaluating the potential universe of Target Funds that can be used to build the overall asset allocation to globally diversified equity and fixed income securities, in line with the pre-determined equity and fixed income allocations, while ensuring that each Target Fund complies with the UCITS diversification requirements limiting the investment to an individual Target Fund.

Whilst the Fund will seek broadly to maintain the relative sizes of its equities and fixed income exposures, via the Target Funds, at the stated levels, the identity and proportion of the particular indices, securities and/or markets, etc. to which the Fund is exposed will be at the discretion of the Investment Manager taking into account aspects of those Target Funds considered to be relevant to maintain exposure to a global diversified portfolio. The Fund's actual of exposure to equity and fixed income securities may vary from time to time in response to changes in the market size or market values of the indices tracked by the Target Funds in which the Fund invests, changes in the available universe of relevant Target Funds to help meet the investment objective, or changes required in order to comply with the requirements of the Central Bank which limit the amount of exposure which the Fund may have to individual Target Funds, in which case the Fund will seek to rebalance its investments in the Target Funds to bring its exposure back into line with the levels stated. This approach could mean that the number of underlying Target Funds could change over time.

Other Investment Strategies

The Fund may also invest directly in transferable securities (such as shares, bonds and other similar fixed income investments), which will generally be components of the indices tracked by the Target Funds in which the Fund invests. The Fund may invest in short-term, high quality money market instruments and deposits (including government securities, bank certificates of deposits or engage in overnight repurchase agreements) and/or money market funds, for cash management purposes. Money market instruments are investments usually issued by banks or governments that are a short-term loan to the issuer by the buyer. The buyer receives interest and the return of the original amount at the end of a certain period. A deposit is a fixed term investment that gathers interest over the period of its term.

The Fund may invest in foreign exchange spots. A foreign exchange spot trade involves the purchase or sale of a foreign currency and typically settles in the region of two business days after the trade date.

The securities in which the Fund will invest shall, to the extent required by the UCITS Regulations, be listed or traded on the Regulated Markets set out in Appendix 5 of the Prospectus.

The Fund may also invest on an ancillary basis in financial derivative instruments ("FDI"), provided that any such investment will be undertaken for efficient portfolio management purposes only and in accordance with Appendix 4 of the Prospectus and the requirements of the Central Bank.

Specifically, the Fund may invest in the following FDI:

- Futures. Futures contracts are agreements to buy or sell a fixed amount of an index, equity, bond or currency at a fixed date in the future. Futures contracts are exchange-traded instruments and their dealing is subject to the rules of the exchanges on which they are dealt. Using futures instead of investing directly in the underlying security or index tracked by the Target Funds may result in lower transaction costs being incurred by the Fund.
- Forward Foreign Exchange Contracts. Forward foreign exchange contracts are agreements between parties to exchange fixed amounts of different currencies at an agreed exchange rate at an agreed time in the future. Forward foreign exchange contracts are similar to currency futures, except that they are not exchange-traded, but are instead over the counter instruments. Forward foreign exchange contracts may be used to manage currency exposures. Non-deliverable forward foreign exchange contracts may be used for the same reasons. They differ from standard forward foreign exchange contracts in that at least one of the currencies in the transaction is not permitted to be delivered in settlement of any profit or loss resulting from the transaction. Typically, profit or loss in this case will be delivered in US Dollars or Euro.

See Appendix 4 of the Prospectus for further details on the FDI that the Fund will use. The Fund will not use FDI for investment purposes, and only a limited percentage of its assets may be committed to FDI usage at any time. See Appendix 4 of the Prospectus for further information on leverage and the calculation of global exposure.

Temporary Investment Measures

The Fund may temporarily depart from the investment strategies set out above in response to the Investment Manager's perception of extraordinary market, political or similar conditions. During these periods, and for as long as and to the extent deemed necessary by the Investment Manager in the best interests of Shareholders, the Fund may increase its holdings of cash and ancillary liquid assets. In doing so, the Fund may succeed in avoiding losses, but may otherwise fail to achieve its investment objective.

Portfolio Information

Vanguard delivers a daily pricing file to Authorised Participants and market makers. This file contains a basket of securities that very closely mirror the risk exposures of the Fund holdings and ensures that Authorised Participants and market makers will be able to accurately predict the Fund closing NAV, which ensures an effective arbitrage mechanism.

Further information on the Fund's portfolio can be found at <https://fund-docs.vanguard.com/portfolio-holdings-disclosure-policy.pdf>, including details of the periodic disclosure of full holdings.

Primary Risks

Please refer to the section of the Prospectus entitled "Risk Factors" for information in relation to the risks applicable to an investment in the Company, including any investment in the Fund, including the risk factor entitled "Investing in Other Collective Investment Schemes".

Details of such fees will also be contained in the Company’s annual report. See section of the Prospectus headed “Cross Investment” in Appendix 3 for further details with regard to the charging of fees where the Fund is invested in other Funds of the Company. However, the Company may reimburse the Manager for these organisational expenses over such period as may be determined by the Directors in consultation with the Manager. It is estimated that such organisational expenses will amount to US $15,000. These organisational expenses shall be amortised over the first five annual accounting periods of the Fund.

Dividends on any Distributing Shares of the Fund will be paid on a semi-annual basis. Please see the section of the Prospectus headed “Dividend Distribution Policy” for further details.

The Directors do not intend to declare a dividend on the Fund’s Accumulating Shares. Any income attributable to such Accumulating Shares is reflected in the Fund’s Net Asset Value per Accumulating Share.
